“ How can you ever describe the Love between a Father and Daughter? Going through your music I came across a "newer" song - "My Fathers Daughter". I listened to it and cried because that is exactly how you are to me. You never needed to be anything more because you are everything. I have never known a greater man. I can never thank you enough for the life you have given me. You always put your Family first. The strength, the fight, and the courage you had during your battle made me so proud, as With everything you did. You will be Loved and missed always my Dear Friend, My Dad. Words will never be enough. Until we meet again. Be at peace without pain or suffering.
