“ The person we honour today, is not the person I remember. Illness took our family friend a long time ago. John and Verna have been part of the Holomis family for as long as I can remember. They seemed to always have been part of our family as I grew up. I remember John as always having a smile and a laugh, and that is the person I will remember, and I'm sure the person Verna will never forget. Brenda Welwood
